AN ALLEGED PLOT

To Restore Queen Liliuokalani and Loot Honolulu

EXPOSED IN SAN FRANCISCO

By a Chronicle Reporter Who Answered an Advertisement

FOR "TIMBERMEN AND HUNTERS."

Rudolph Speckles, son of Claus Speckles, said to be backing the scheme. The Plot Was to Enlist from 200 to 400 Men, Take the Hawaiian Republic by Force and Hold It, Money and Goods Worth Approximately $27,000, 500 Among 200 Freebooters Picked Up by Ones and Twos in Western America. The Active Agent of the Conspirators a Native of Connecticut.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—The Chronicle prints a story exposing an alleged plot to restore Queen Liliuokalani and loot Honolulu. Rudolph Speckles, youngest son of Claus Speckles, said to be backing the scheme, "The Chronicle says:

"One of the best contested and most dangerous filibustering expeditions ever fitted out on American soil was uncovered in San Francisco Saturday. Its object is, or was, to take the Hawaiian republic by force of arms, restore to the throne ex-Queen Liliuokalani and divide lands, money and goods worth approximately $27,000 among some 200 freebooters picked up by ones and twos in western America.

The active agent of the conspirators is W. P. Morrow, a native of Connecticut, aged 31, and, he says, recently a resident of Grass Valley, Cal. He is still in San Francisco under surveillance, so that the authorities can get him if they desire to do so.

The headquarters of the filibustering expedition has been at 711 Bush street, a dingy, flat-fronted boardinghouse. There the agent of the conspirators has been receiving day and night a motley crowd of men who respond to his cautiously worded advertisements published in the city and elsewhere.

Discovery of the Plot.

Morrow admitted Saturday night when he was forced into a corner and told that the game was up, that he had been engaging men to go into Hawaii and overturn the republic. He had told before to a reporter that the thing was to be done and had stated plainly who the men were behind it. He had said that he mentioned one of the conspirators to the exiled Ashfords, and he declared that Rudolph Speckles was the man with the money who was backing the project. Speckles, he said, had already concealed a large number of rifles on the island of Maui, so that they would be ready when the filibuster reached the islands.

The first lead intimation of the expedition appeared in an advertisement a few days ago. The advertisement which led to the discovery of the filibustering scheme appeared in a morning paper Tuesday, July 30. It reads:

"Timbermen and hunters to escort prospecting party, good pay to good men, state age, fare $16. Address Box 1,250, Examiner office."

Received a Reply.

A Chronicle reporter answered this advertisement and in a few hours received the following reply: "We want men for an expedition, and there will probably be some fighting in the interest of 30,000 people with less than 5,000 to oppose them. Only a small organized body to beat, not exceeding 700, no uniforms, but a few good soldiers, being newly recruited and offered by civilians without capacity or discipline. Pay $25 and upward per month, according to what you can get, also a grant of enough fruit or coffee land in bearing to fix you for life. You will have to furnish rifle and ammunition. If prospects suit you, answer and a meeting can be arranged. It will be held at what this meant. The 90,000 people referred to comprise the royalists and native population of the Hawaiian Islands. The 5,000 are the people who are against them. The reply was received at 10 o'clock. The reporter then arranged an interview with Mr. Morrow and called upon him at the boarding house on Bush street. The expedition was discussed and the reporter arrived a desire to join it.

"Have you any idea of the goal of this expedition?" he asked.

The Chronicle reporter said that he thought it might be to take the Hawaiian Islands.

To Restore the Queen.

"That is a mistake," was the reply. "The scheme is to restore the Queen of the Sandwich Islands to her throne. We will enlist our men from the islands and take a thing vessel from the port within 16 days or two weeks. We have given out false information as to our starting point, telling people that we were to start from Honolulu. We are going from the northern port. We shall however, go from here in about 10 days. It will cost $16 to buy the necessary outfit of clothes, ammunition, arms, etc.

The Duke government owns three quarters of the landed property in the islands, and the proposition is that if the expedition is successful to distribute the captured property to the adherents and send Duke and his supporters off the islands without a cent. The standing army consists of 120 men and 10 officers besides a militia of 350 men. The armament of the standing army is six getting guns which are stationed at the palace.

"In the city of Honolulu the Duke government claims 4,000 adherents, and of these 1,000 there are 1,000 who are friends of the royalists and out of the 120 men who make up the standing army we claim to have five men who are ready to do the thing of the revolution party, and out of the militia we can count on the services of 50 men."

The proposition to Capture the Five Steamers

that ply between the islands and then approach Honolulu and capture the revenue officers and bank of Hawaii & Company, there being from $30,000 to $50,000 in the revenue boxes and bank. The proposition in regard to the question is to pay the three or a more agreed, the head of the revolutionary party to be in control of affairs.

"Rudolph Speckles has planted 1,000 stands of arms to be used by the revolutionists on the island of Maui," continued Morrow. "The Speckles have little use for the provisional government. They could furnish arms to the natives, except that the natives could not use them, and to this fact I attribute the failure of the last uprising.

"In the party that is to leave from here are three or four men who are acquainted with every inch of the island. Among them is Volney B. Ashford, the head of the personal affair in name. I say in name because Ashford is partly to blame for the last affair. We have an attorney who is giving us advice and who is to accompany the expedition. His name is Bushford.

"In regard to the makeup of the party, there are about 200 men, nearly all jawbreakers from New Mexico, Arizona, and Texas, and most of them are here scattered around."

Morrow said that the natives and people in the islands would welcome the revolutionary party, as he expressed it, "would consider it like getting out of hell into heaven," to have the government a monarchy again.

"The first point after landing will be to

Take the Five Alarm System,

and the next point will be the telephone system, in order to cut off communications with every inch of the island. Next will be the police station, where there are only about 20 men, whose arms and ammunition are on the upper floors while the police are down below. Next would be the places where the galling guns are stationed on a piazza. We also depend on some of our spies to cripple a couple of the galling guns. Next we shall take the government building, which is guarded by only 12 men. After capturing these points we will leave men to guard them. We think that we ought to capture the city within half an hour, as the points are so weakly guarded. At the palace our men could lie behind the fones that surround the grounds and pick off the gunners from a place of safety and as soon as their ammunition had been exhausted the revolutionists could rush in and capture the guns and gunners."

Hawaiian Consul Wilder, when told of the plot, said that he expected trouble of some kind very soon.

Morrow was seen yesterday by a detective and closely questioned. He admitted that he was hiring men for a filibustering expedition and said that he received $250 a month and expenses for this work.

He claims to have sent a number of men to the rendezvous at Portland, but this is not believed. It is thought the intention of the adventurers was to sail from San Francisco or some nearby port in a vessel chartered for the occasion.

The San Francisco police at first thought Morrow was running a swindling employment agency, but investigation leads them to believe that a conspiracy of the kind there outlined actually exists. In spite of the exposure Morrow was very cool and said the federal authorities had no terrors for him. He had not committed any overt act and they did nothing except watch him.

SENATOR PEPPER

Asks the Silver Question Is the Leading Question of the Hour.

New York, Aug. 5.—Senator Pepper of Kansas lectured yesterday at Princeton, N. J., on the silver question. The Lecture was a Moral Question. To an audience of the senator said:

"The silver question is the leading question of the hour but at present in the west the agitation is dying out. This has been strongly marked during the last few weeks. I think it is due to a temporary check, however, and that the sentiment is strong with the people. Still there are no more public meetings now and the discussion that sometimes is put up by the newspapers alone.

"I think," and he, "that the silver men in the Democratic and Republican parties will be swamped at the coming elections. They will talk silver, but they will not vote for it."

No Extra Session.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 5.—There is no probability that Governor Altgeld will order another special session of the legislature at least for some months.

In an interview yesterday afternoon with a representative of the press, Governor Altgeld expressed the opinion that the members of the present assembly are not capable of coping with the important questions laid before them at the session in just concluded, and that he would be fully to call them back for that purpose.

CHINESE OUTRAGE

The Reported Massacre of Christians at Kucheng.

LADY MISSIONARIES PUT TO DEATH

After Suffering Atrocious Outrages. Other Foreigners Including Women and Children Seriously Wounded—Chinese Officials Said to Have Convinced of If They Did Not Instigate the Attack.

LONGH, Aug. 5.—A dispatch from Shanghai gives the details of the reported massacre of Christians at Kucheng. The ladies who are said to have been killed are believed to have been members of the Church of England, the Zenana, and the American Methodist Episcopal missions.

According to the dispatch they were butchered after suffering atrocious outrages. A number of other foreigners, including women and children, were seriously wounded.

The dispatch declares that the Chinese officials connived at, if they did not instigate, the attack on the Christians. The revival of outrages is attributed to the apathy of the British and American ministers, despite the increasing anti-foreign feeling that is displayed.

Foreigners in Shanghai regard the commission sent out to inquire into the recent riots at Cheng Tu as a farce. Many officials who were charged with complicity in these riots are being promoted.

Ten Killed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The state department has received later intelligence of the killing of the missionaries in Kucheng, China. The dispatch, like the one received Saturday, was from Consul General Jerrold, and shows that no Americans suffered, but that the massacre of British subjects was greater than at first reported. The consul general's dispatch is in the following words: "Americans all safe. None hurt. Ten British killed."

KILLED HIS PARTNER.

A Drunken Philadelphian Brains a Fellow Workman.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—Harry C. Milman, aged 42 years, was killed by his business partner and fellow-workman, Jacob Walker. Milman and Walker had the joint contract to lay floors in a number of new houses at Main and Harrison streets, Frankford. Walker, in an intoxicated condition, came out of the building and, although he had not been working, declared he should have half the money received for the contract. A wordy quarrel followed the residence at 2 o'clock was on his knees at work. Walker picked up a piece of floor board and struck Milman on the head. Milman died in half an hour. Walker was arrested.

Everything Quiet.

OHIO, Aug. 5.—Things were quiet in the city yesterday. The fire and police board Saturday night decided it was necessary to maintain a number of policemen at the police station to defend them from an attack of a mob. Accordingly the 75 special policemen that had been on duty for the preceding 30 hours were ordered to remove to their homes and to be prepared to answer a call at any time. This far most of the police force who have signed the pledge to support the new board, but more recent developments seem to have induced them to postpone their contemplated action.

The Boat Captured.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 5.—A sudden squall yesterday afternoon captured the sloop yacht Ella S. of the Excelsior Boat club off the foot of Ninety Third street. The yachting party, composed of John Stewart, his three sons, and Arthur Hemmingsway were thrown into the water but stood and two of his sons managed to grab the boat and were rescued. His oldest son John, and young Hemmingsway were swept beyond reach and are
